Narrative

A letter was received commending Off. Yabrosky for her handling of a bad check compliant related to payment that was due to a local business. The incident involved a potential elderly fraud situation in which family members of the elderly person were manipulating funds for their own benefit leaving this person financially short of funds in his checking account causing his check to bounce. In fact, this incident involved 2 victims, one being the business owner, and the other, being the elderly person who wrote the check. Off. Yabrosky conducted a thorough investigation into this matter, to ensure that the truth related to this incident was determined. Off. Yabrosky made efforts to speak with different individuals in this matter to determine what was transpiring behind the scenes and unbeknownst to the elderly person who wrote a check to the local business thinking he had sufficient funds to cover the transaction. She contacted the lawyer for the victim as well as Elderly Protective Services to obtain information to get to the truth in this matter. Off. Yabrosky was able to determine that a criminal investigation was underway by Elderly Protective Services concerning potential criminal activity being conducted by the family of the person who wrote the check. She was able to further determine that the elderly person who wrote the check had no criminal intent and was therefore not going to be held accountable for passing what he didn't know was a check that had insufficient funds in the account due to criminal activity on the part of the family. The business owner, identified as John Ciesco of Ciesco Memorials commended Off. Yabrosky for the excellent work that she did and firmly believes that had it not been for Off. Yabrosky's efforts, he would have not been compensated for his loss. The police mantra of "protection of life and property" was fully at work here, where Off. Yabrosky worked to protect the interests of both an elderly gentleman who was being victimized by his family, and that of a business that was equally being victimized. It goes without saying that Off. Yabrosky's efforts are truly acknowledged and appreciated in this and all matters that she becomes involved in. She is a significant asset to this agency and the citizens of the City of Torrington. Keep up the great work!!

Chief William Baldwin, Jr.
Torrington Police Department
567 Main Street
Torrington, Ct. 06790

Dear Chief Baldwin:

I wanted to take the opportunity to commend the outstanding job that Officer Hanna Yabrosky did handling a complaint I filed for a customer issuing a bad check. The matter ended up being rather messy in that the elderly individual who issued the check had direct family members who were mishandling his funds for their own benefit. Officer Yabrosky went to great lengths to contact all parties involved, including Elderly Protective Services and a court appointed conservator for the gentleman. Officer Yabrosky kept me informed throughout her investigation and answered all my questions. As it has turned out the conservator for the elderly gentleman has agreed to make every effort to pay the balance due owed to Ciesco Memorials.

If it were not for the all the extra effort Office Yabrosky put into this case, I believe it would be very unlikely that I would have had any chance of being paid the balance due.

Very truly yours,

John C. Ciesco

Positive Performance

Narrative

On 2/4/24 at approximately 1130 hours, Ofc. Belonick was patrolling the area of the Torrington Towers located at 52 Summer St. Recently there has been an increase of criminal behavior at the towers and most shifts encourage extra checks of the area which rarely result in any arrests being made.

At this time Ofc. Belonick observed two parties conduct what he believed to be a hand to hand narcotics transaction. Ofc. Belonick was able to follow one half of the suspected transaction as the suspect made his way behind the shopping plaza at 211 High St. Ofc. Belonick then stopped the suspect in a clearly marked "no trespassing" area and began his investigation into the above mentioned narcotics transaction.

Ofc. Belonick trusted his instincts and correctly determined that the suspect had purchased narcotics. He also determined that the suspect had an outstanding PRAWN warrant for Violation of Probation. Ofc. Belonick made the arrest charging the suspect with (21a-279) Possession of Narcotics. Additionally he was able to close out the suspects PRAWN warrant (Ref C/N 24-3695).

Not only did Ofc. Belonick make the above self initiated arrest, but he continued his investigation and was able to glean more information as to the criminal undertakings of several parties that reside at the Torrington Towers. This information could lead to more arrests in the future.

Ofc. Belonick's actions are in keeping with the highest traditions of Law Enforcement. They reflect a distinct credit upon himself, The Torrington Police Department, and the City of Torrington. I recommend that he be considered for any applicable awards for this pro active narcotics arrest.

Job well done,
