Hi Jeremy,

This just came over from the event coordinator. He's also happy to attend the meeting:
Anticipated attendance that would come and go over the day and half: 600 - 800

- *Saturday at noon, gates will open for entry
- *Saturday night at 6pm will be our Stacyc Event usually lasting 20 minutes with awards to follow.
- *Starting at dusk P27 makes security rounds patrolling until midnight or later
- *Sunday at 6am front gates and registration open
- *Paramedics are expected to be on site before 8am
- *The first round starts at 8am. 8 rounds at 1 hour intervals ends the event at 4pm.
- *Barricade track tape and other barriers are used to mark the course on both sides, containing all participants. Spectators are to remain outside of the track tape and course marshals circle the track to ensure safety. If a spectator is to travel outside of permitted areas they will be reprimanded or asked to leave the premises
- *Attendees and spectators leave the venue at various times throughout the day depending on their timed event, so the traffic should not be congested within a small timeframe.
- *The night of the event, ribbon and trash are collected and discarded to the designated area assigned by the property owner. Event props and scoring equipment are also packed up and put away. On the day following the event, a skid steer and rake are used to reclaim the property to the best of our ability.

About P27:

The story of P27 starts with our founder Paul Goyette. He started racing at the age of 12 giving him over 40 years on the track as well as turning wrenches as a young boy to owning his own repair shop. His passion has never faded and has only grown as time has gone on. From racing NESC to Pro Motocross, to traveling to areas as far as Canada and Costa Rica, holding decades of memories and relationships that only fuel his passion and the deeper meaning behind motocross. Around 2012 Paul started racing JDay Offroad, building a relationship with the founder John Day. Motorsports was a large part of Paul's life and he decided to start a race team by the name P27, giving support and mechanical help to those in which he could. This abbreviated name originates from what many would guess, his name and track nickname "Poacher" as well as his favorite race number #27. After a couple years passed, Paul and John Day worked together building Enduro-Cross style tracks known as the "Moto Rodeo" events. Later, as the demand for racing offroad grew in western Massachusetts and the Tri-State area, John and Paul tried to think of a format expansion from JDay that would be run by Paul himself. Their idea grew organically into NYOffroad, and has evolved into P27Offroad as of 2022. As years have passed P27Offroad has incorporated quads, pit bikes, and stacyc bikes, and holds events in Massachusetts, New York, Vermont, and New Hampshire. Each GP is different than the year before, even if it is held at the same venue. We never run the same track twice! Our founder holds integrity and a passion that is easily seen through his work and his support to all riders. Whether you decide to race with us or another series, he is always elated to see the growth of riders and the passion that they share. As we grow, we intend to never lose sight of Paul's mission, and that is to encourage young riders to find the fire within themselves and work toward their passion. It's not about winning but the building blocks that get you there!
